

Be a champion for people with a learning disability and/or autism

We are seeking professionals who are providing specialist or non-specialist services to people with a learning disability and/or autism to join our steering group.

We want to hear what is working well and what could make support even better. We are planning a series of focus groups and would love to hear from those with the above insight.

Contact research@pcp.uk.net